

IT IS NOT A BORDER WALL!!.....It's an elevated electric passenger and high speed freight intercontinental train with a solid concrete 10 meter base, powered by a solar canopy, hydrogen fuel cells, and battery storage, outfitted with IR cameras, night vision, motion detection, illumination, drone and RoboAI surveillance, constructed with abundant motivated labor, residing in local regenerative, sustainable, peaceful border settlement communities, constructed by the same motivated labor, funded by the Department of Defense, and connects San Diego to Jacksonville Beach.

"You never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the existing one obsolete."

"Don't fight forces. Use them."

"The care of human life and happiness, and not their destruction, is the first and only object of good government." - Thomas Jefferson.

A core belief of transcendentalism is in the inherent goodness of people and nature. Adherents believe that society and its institutions have corrupted the purity of the individual and nature, and they have faith that people are at their best when truly "self-reliant" and independent.

"Confident that with YOUR help, man will be what he was born to be: free and independent."

"Does the INDIVIDUAL have the courage to really go along with the TRUTH?"

"One person can make a difference, and everyone should try."

"It is a crime for any citizen to shrink from controversy."

"When TRUTH represents an existential threat, then censorship is deployed."

"Those who make peaceful revolution impossible will make violent revolution inevitable."

John F. Kennedy.

There are only three things we fight for: 1. Defense of our Individual Bill of Rights. 2. Defense of our children. 3. Defense of our homes.

Romanticism as a movement was characterized by a longing for the Medieval chivalric age, nationalism, and a feeling for nature.

The Romantic age is thought to have begun as early as 1770, but probably was not in full swing until the end of the French Revolution. The first great literary work of the movement was Lyrical Ballads, a collection of poetry by William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge published in 1799.

Romantic Art

In landscape art, Romantics picked subjects that elevated nature, often dwarfing the human in comparison. Sometimes Romantic art depicted sentimental and heroic figures. These seemed small in relation to the forces of nature. Yet humanity remained a focal point of their work. Nature is portrayed as vague, powerful, and barely restrained. Friedrich's Wanderer above the Sea and Fog (1815) shows a solitary gentleman looking out over a seascape with breakers smashing against the shore. The figure seems to contemplate the elements with stoic determination mixed with admiration and awe. The wanderer is focused on nature, even while all of nature seems focused upon him.

You know it when you're in it.

In all heavens, beauty reigns,
Its beings possess much of divinity.
Peace and harmony rule these realms,
Their beings know not the word 'war'.
Victor Hugo

He who binds to himself a joy
Does the winged life destroy;
But he who kisses the joy as it flies

Lives in eternity's sun rise.
