ELECTRIC UNIVERSE.

A presentation slide titled "What does this mean?". The slide features several diagrams and text. On the left, there are diagrams showing "Attract" (a red '+' and a blue '-' with a double-headed arrow) and "Repel" (two red '+' or two blue '-' with a double-headed arrow). In the center, there is a diagram of an "Electric Dipole" with a red '+' and a blue '-' and field lines. On the right, there are two light bulbs. Below each bulb, it says "1 second worth of charge from a 120 volt lightbulb". At the bottom, there are two red '+' signs with arrows pointing towards each other, labeled "1 Million tons of repulsion" and "1 mile".
